In Creatorium we believe creativity, innovation and cooperation is fundamental to a well functioning and just relationships, community and society. We all seem to agree that tabloid media financing models and social media algorithms fuel polarisation in society and democracies, but let's examine, is that actually true? What is the meaning of truth today? How to investigate truth, who to trust and where? We believe that creativity, inclusiveness and self-development will help us to navigate our communities through a difficult storm of digital misinformation

Information is the very basis of our civilization, technology, scientific progress, and social cohesion. Information confusion and disregard truth derails joint efforts for peace and environmental action, and has negative effects for people's mental health, leading to loss of society's greatest assets – its trust, credibility, sustainability, its youth, and its future. We're not saving the world with this project, but our exchange will be a small contribution to protecting these values, gaining experience from each other, and empowering awareness and change.

On behalf of our members, associates and partners, you are invited to explore information with us, in "Healing Struggle Against Disinformation in Democracy". May you find sense in our landscapes, and find the truth you seek, in the friendships and knowledge exchanged and gained here.

We look forward to exploring and sharing insights, stories, methods and perspectives together,

"Healing Struggle Against Disinformation in Democracy" is created for 28 to 42 participants, aged between 16 and 26, with the age limit exception for team leaders, with a total of 4 to 6 teams:

The APV will be conducted online, on the date agreed upon.

- 4 to 6 partner teams, 7 participants each
- 6 participants (18-30 years)
- 1 leader (no maximum age)

The project will take place over 7 days (incl. arrival and departure day) in Skogsro Forest Hostel, Norway. All the accommodation and food costs will be covered. Travel costs will be reimbursed according to the distance calculator and the Erasmus+ rules.

For any further information or questions, we're always happy to hear from you:

Regions of Vestfold og Telemark

Lardal community, Larvik Municipality

With our associate resort/office location in the rural heart of the newly reformed region of Vestfold og Telemark, we are surrounded with a network of competence on this combination of topics. At the same time, our location is in the middle of nature, at the southern foothills of the Skrim highlands, with deep forests, rushing rivers and serene lakes at all around. It is an area of historical importance, yet of unexplored mystery, wild nature, hidden treasure, ancient legends, and natural wealth.

What better place start a partnership to explore these topics and methods?

All our activities will employ non-formal learning methods, participatory methodologies, and active reflection. Throughout the project, participants will actively cooperate in national and international groups, experience varied learning environments, and be in touch with local groups, and a lot of nature. They will develop creative, civic, social, and teamwork skills, meeting and engaging with young people from different nations, cultures and backgrounds.

We encourage partners to send motivated participants, and teams that are gender-balanced and representative of the diversity within their countries in terms of geography, culture, minorities, etc. as they see appropriate. We believe diversity to be an important spice for creative processes, increasing the potential learning outcome of all involved, so let's be inclusive, and strengthened by it.

Having core staff and members with extensive competence in youth work, a broad cooperation with local guides, contributors, organisations and institutions, we believe that our capacity, methods and location is ideal for the implementation of a successful project.

Creatorium believes that positive global change begins at community level, and that youth can be an active part of it, and even the driving force behind it. With this project Creatorium hopes to contribute to that change, create helpful tools for the youth empowered by it, and deepen contacts and friendships for future initiatives.
